

THE KIP PAVILION OF ATTRACTIVE TERRITORIES CELEBRATED THE KIP DAY WITH ITS PARTNERS

On 22 September 2015, all the staff and partners gathered together at the Open Plaza of Expo Center to celebrate the KIP Day, the special day attributed by Expo 2015 to the KIP Pavilion, KIP Pavilion is home to over sixty national and international experiences working in building attractive territories for a sustainable world. KIP Pavilion is the project of the KIP International School at Expo intended to promote ideas and practices of local communities who work in their territories for making them more attractive and sustainable places. The objective of the KIP Pavilion is to launch a World Cooperation System for Territorial Development at the end of Expo.

During the official ceremony held on the Stage of Expo Center, the Partners' delegations have launched messages to the Expo visitors on the strategic value of local development. In the thanks letter delivered by Famiano Crucianelli, co-president of the KIP International School to Bruno Antonio Pasquino, Commissioner General of Expo, he underlined the importance of improving international cooperation networks among territories in order to make a better and more sustainable world.

A model of little Marco Cavallo, the symbol of the fight against exclusion has been handed to the Commissioner General of Expo by Iris Caffelli from World Permanent Conference of Mental Health Franco Basaglia and the president of KIP International School, Luciano Carrino.

Messages and slogans were delivered to the visitors of Expo from the international networks who participated with exhibitions and ideas to the Pavilion, among which: International Network of Local Economic Development Agencies, International Network of Eco regions and Bio-Districts, International network of Social economy, World Permanent Conference of Mental Health Franco Basaglia, OXFAM, the President of the Province of Udine as symbol of Local authorities of the world and the director of the Association of Social Promotion Diamocilamano as symbol of all the communities of immigrants.

After the ceremony, accompanied by the music of Contrabbanda Street Artists, flags and banners, the delegations made their way to the Garden of the United Nations, delivering a message to the representatives of UN-Expo.

KIP Day ended in the KIP Pavilion with a tasting of wines from Cantine Tollo, gastronomy and music offered by the Street Band Contrabbanda and the DJ set of Radio R2L.
